Ralph Angel Bio

Ralph Angel's collection of poems, Your Moon, was awarded the 2013 Green Rose Poetry Prize. Exceptions and Melancholies: Poems 1986-2006 received the 2007 PEN USA Poetry Award, and his Neither World won the James Laughlin Award of The Academy of American Poets. In addition to five books of poetry, he also published an award-winning translation of the Federico García Lorca collection, Poema del cante jondo / Poem of the Deep Song. His most recent work includes entropia, a collection of thirty-one images, and Strays, a limited-edition chapbook of poems. Angel received numerous honors, including a gift from the Elgin Cox Trust, a Pushcart Prize, a Gertrude Stein Award, the Willis Barnstone Poetry Translation Prize, a Fulbright Foundation fellowship, and the Bess Hokin Award of the Modern Poetry Association. He was the Edith R. White Distinguished Professor at the University of Redlands, where he taught for 39 years, and a member of the MFA in Writing faculty at Vermont College of Fine Arts.
